

TEMPERANCE FORCES AIM TO MAKE MARYLAND DRY

Movement to Be Pressed Especially in Baltimore—War on Tuberculosis Begins.

Special Correspondence of The Star.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 20.—The campaign to make Baltimore city and the rest of the state dry has begun. A definite plan was outlined at a meeting of the Anti-Saloon League this week and a committee of 100, composed of business and professional men, was named to direct the fight. The first canvass of strength will be made tomorrow, when "information cards" will be passed out in the churches and signed by those who agree to do so. This card asks four questions: "Are you in favor of an active campaign to vote Baltimore dry?" "Will you use your influence to secure other votes for dry Baltimore?" "Will you assist in the campaign financially?" "In the counties the league proposes to form dry neighborhood clubs for the purpose of doing personal work among the voters."

Opponents Not Well Organized.

The anti-prohibition forces are not well organized at this time and appear to lack a leader virile enough to direct a hot campaign against the amendment. This being presidential election year, the regular politicians, who in the past have handled the saloon question, have been mostly in the background. There is no gainsaying the fact that the wet forces are scattered, and badly so. The movement to establish in every county of the state a branch of the Association for the Prevention and Relief of Tuberculosis started this week. Howard county was visited as the starting point, and it is the plan of Alden Anderson, who is directing the movement, to spend a week in each county, ending the periods with organization meetings. Headquarters for the branch associations will be at the county seats.

Increase in Export Business.

The export business at this port is experiencing an unprecedented boom and the members of the chamber of commerce are urging the railroads to erect more elevators. The grain dealers assert that the congestion on the railroad lines at the present time is such that the facilities at this port. It is pointed out by grain men that 91,000,000 bushels of grain were handled through this port last year, making it second only to New York as a grain exporting center. Prominent members of the chamber assert that this volume of business could be increased if the railroads will provide more storage facilities.

Movement to Boom Gen. Wood.

Plans are under way in this city for the organization of a Leonard Wood League to boom the army man for the republican presidential nomination. Robert Burton, who was the secretary of the progressive party here, this week received a letter from John A. Stewart, chairman of the New York committee backing Wood, in which it was stated that the general would be supported strongly in both the republican and progressive conventions at Chicago and that Wood's name would be placed before the convention by distinguished orators. Mr. Burton also stated that he had learned from authoritative sources that Col. Roosevelt would not accept the nomination by a small majority, and that in case he does not receive the degree of support he considers necessary he will work in aid of Gen. Wood in preference either to Hughes or Root.

FISHING SCHOONERS READY.

Will Start on Summer Cruises Within Few Days.

Local fishermen are preparing to start down river on summer fishing cruises that will probably last until the cool winds of autumn begin to blow. Early in this week Capt. J. D. Faunce will leave here aboard the schooner Emma S. Faunce for the fishing grounds below Liverpool point, and later in the week Capt. J. B. Faunce will leave aboard the sloop Enola for the grounds in the vicinity of Colonial Beach. Crews are being made up for these vessels, stores gotten aboard and by tomorrow evening all preparations for sail will have been made. Later in the season the fishing fleet will be augmented by the power boat Ada Balenger, Capt. Alex. Watson, and by boats from Alexandria.

LIGHTHOUSE TENDERS SAIL.

Orchid and Holly Looking After Lightships and Buoyage Work.

The lighthouse service steamer Orchid, which looks after the lightships and buoyage along the coast section of the fifth district, has sailed from Norfolk with supplies for the lightships on the Diamond shoals and Cape Lookout stations, in the southern end of the district. Completing this work the Orchid will return to the Portsmouth station to take up work in other parts of the local district.

To overlook buoyage in Virginia waters and in Potomac sound and its tributary streams the lighthouse service steamer Holly has left the Portsmouth station. Several days will be required for this work and she will then return to Norfolk.

SHAD WELL UP RIVER.

Good Catches Made Between Alexandria and Potomac Creek.

The increase in the catch of shad in the portion of the Potomac river between Alexandria and Potomac creek in the fishing season now closing was very large, and sustained the contention that if the fish were given a chance to come up the river they would seek the spawning grounds about this city. The records of Capt. William Neitzky of this city, who, with his brothers, operated the seine shores at Stony point and Chappans, show that $7,960 shad were caught in a period of about three weeks, the extent of the fishing time.

Last year, operating Stony point and Fairly landing shores, the total catch of the entire season was a little less than 12,000. The other fishing shores and the trap net fishermen made catches as large in proportion. While the haul seines have done working for the season the gill net fishermen are fishing and are making fairly good catches. Shad and herring can be sold on this market until June 16. After that day it is a misdemeanor to bring a shad or a herring into the District, no matter where caught.
